

Community Involvement

Scholarship

2008-2009

In 1995 alumni Shari Lawrence Pfleeger ('70) and Charles P. Pfleeger established this scholarship fund as a means to raise awareness of the importance of community service even as they help a Binghamton University student to enjoy a liberal arts education. The Pfleegers hope to encourage the recipient to perform a significant amount of community service, either through employment or as a volunteer upon completion of the student's undergraduate work.

To be considered, you must be a full-time Harpur College undergraduate student. Follow the application process as outlined below. Because financial need is also a consideration, every applicant must also file a Free Application for Federal Student Aid and ensure that it is on file with Binghamton University Financial Aid Services by application deadline.

Application Process

On a separate sheet, please write an essay detailing your view of the role community service plays, not only in education but in the work force as well. Discuss any plans or goals you may already have, or wish to do after completing your degree. If you have already performed some type of community service please include a description as well as at least one reference letter (on official letterhead) from a supervisor of an activity you participated in. If involvement in more than one please also include the name, address, and phone number of a contact person (who would be familiar with your involvement and who could provide an additional verbal reference for you) for each activity you list.

APPLICATIONS MUST BE RETURNED TO FINANCIAL AID SERVICES (SW 109)
